Description

As a new user, I want to seamlessly register for an account on the Booking.com website, enabling me to access personalized features and efficiently manage my bookings.

The registration process offers four methods:

1. Manual entry of email address and password.
2. Facebook registration method.
3. Google registration method.
4. Apple registration method.

Manual entry of email address and password

This registration process will unfold through 3 distinct stages:

State #1: Initial Page prompting for email address.

State #2: Subsequent Page requesting password setup.

State #3: Final Page confirming successful registration.

Additionally:

- An email will be dispatched for account verification purposes.
- A welcome email will be dispatched upon successful account creation.

State #1 consists of the following sections:

Top section

- Users can easily select their preferred language from the "Select your language" option, which presents a list of available languages for the website interface.
- Clicking on "Help and support" directs users to the main page of the Help Center for assistance.

Middle section

- The registration page prominently features "Sign in or create an account" at the center, ensuring visibility.
- An email address field is provided for users to input their email.
- A "Continue with email" button facilitates swift registration via email.
- Additional registration options such as Facebook, Google, and Apple are conveniently available for user choice.

Footer section

- Hyperlinks to "Terms & conditions" and "Privacy statement" are clearly provided for user reference.
- General copyright information is displayed in the footer section, ensuring legal clarity.

Other validation criterias

- Users are redirected to the second stage (password assignment) only upon providing a valid email ID.
- If a user provides an existing email ID, the system will automatically send a verification link to the provided email address for confirmation.
- Blank field is not accepted.

State #2 consists of the following sections:

Top section

- Users can easily select their preferred language from the "Select your language" option, which presents a list of available languages for the website interface.
- Clicking on "Help and support" directs users to the main page of the Help Center for assistance.
- Booking.com logo (redirects user to the main page of registration upon selection)

Middle section

- The page prominently displays "Create Password" at the center, accompanied by the guideline "Use a minimum of 10 characters, including uppercase letters, lowercase letters, and numbers" below.
- It offers two primary fields: "Password" and "Confirm Password," with the option to reveal entered data.
- The "Create Account" button is present to guide users to the next stage while simultaneously validating the entered passwords.

Footer section

- Hyperlinks to "Terms & conditions" and "Privacy statement" are clearly provided for user reference.
- General copyright information is displayed in the footer section, ensuring legal clarity.

Other validation criterias

- Users are redirected to the third stage only upon providing a valid password.
- Introduced passwords must match identically.
- Blank fields are not accepted.

State #3 consists of the following:

- Upon successful account creation, the application will redirect the user to the website homepage, featuring a prominent pop-up window at the center of the screen, displaying the following messages sequentially:

1. "Welcome to Genius! You've just unlocked Level 1."
2. "Enjoy a lifetime of travel rewards worldwide. Simply look for the blue Genius label to save!"
3. "10% off select stays."
4. "10% off select rental cars."

The pop-up window includes the following buttons:

- "Ok, got it!" button: Closes the window.
- "Learn more about Genius" button: Redirects the user to the Genius loyalty program page.
- Close button: Allows the user to manually close the pop-up window.

Account verification email consists of the following sections:

Top section

- Booking.com Logo: Clicking redirects the user to the website homepage.
- Account Logo: Clicking verifies the user's account.

Middle section

- The page prominently displays "Verify your email address" at the center, accompanied by the guideline "You created an account with the email address: [registered email]. Click "Confirm" to verify the email address and unlock your full account. We'll also import any bookings you've made with that address." below.
- The "Confirm" button directs users to the next page, where they will encounter a successful email verification message along with a "Sign in" button.

Footer section

- Hyperlinks to "Privacy and Cookies" and "Customer service" are clearly provided for user reference.
- General copyright information is displayed in the footer section, ensuring legal clarity.

Welcome to Booking.com email consists of the following sections:

Top section

- Booking.com Logo: Clicking redirects the user to the website homepage.

Middle section

- The page prominently displays "[user], welcome to Booking.com " at the center, accompanied by the text below: "There's a lot of world out there to explore, and your new account will help you do just that."
- "Discover Genius" button - redirects user to the Genius loyalty program page
- "Explore settings" button - redirects user to the Account settings main page
- "Your account details" section providing 2 fields:

Email address [used email address]

Creation date [the date on which the account was created]

Footer section

- Hyperlinks to "Privacy and Cookies" and "Customer service" are clearly provided for user reference.
- General copyright information is displayed in the footer section, ensuring legal clarity.
- "Sign in" button - redirects user to the main page of sign-in

Facebook registration method

This registration process will unfold through 4 distinct stages:

State #1: On the initial page, the user is presented with options to register using Facebook, Google, or Apple methods.

State #2: When the user selects the Facebook method, a window pop-up seeks permission to utilize user cookies.

State #3: After the permission for cookies is allowed, another pop-up window will appear, asking the user to grant permission for Booking.com to use their name, photo, and email address.

State #4: After the permission for Booking is allowed, the application will redirect the user to the website homepage, featuring a prominent pop-up window at the center of the screen, displaying the following messages sequentially:

1. "Welcome to Genius! You've just unlocked Level 1."
2. "Enjoy a lifetime of travel rewards worldwide. Simply look for the blue Genius label to save!"
3. "10% off select stays."

4. "10% off select rental cars."

The pop-up window includes the following buttons:

- "Ok, got it!" button: Closes the window.
- "Learn more about Genius" button: Redirects the user to the Genius loyalty program page.
- Close button: Allows the user to manually close the pop-up window.

Additionally:

- An email will be dispatched for account verification purposes.
- A welcome email will be dispatched upon successful account creation.

Google registration method

This registration process will unfold through 4 distinct stages:

State #1: On the initial page, the user is presented with options to register using Facebook, Google, or Apple methods.

State #2: When the Google option is selected, a separate window pop-up will appear, displaying the user's currently connected Google accounts

State #3: The user will select from the list a Google account that hasn't been registered with the Booking platform

State #4: After the account selection, the application will redirect the user to the website homepage, featuring a prominent pop-up window at the center of the screen, displaying the following messages sequentially:

1. "Welcome to Genius! You've just unlocked Level 1."
  2. "Enjoy a lifetime of travel rewards worldwide. Simply look for the blue Genius label to save!"
  3. "10% off select stays."
  4. "10% off select rental cars."
